

Preparation for University Life

On Saturday 1st April IntoUniversity will be providing a free university visit to the University of Leicester to help you prepare for the adventure that is university. Whether you know lots about university or nothing at all, our visits are for anyone who wants to explore the option of university.

On the trip you will:

- Explore different aspects of university life and learning:

Looking at the range of courses to choose from, where in the country you can study and the different clubs and societies you can join!

- Get specialist advice on your own journey through education and into a career- whether you know what you want to do or not.

- Get to explore a university campus and experience what life is like as a university student. Visit the Halls of Residence, lecture theatres, student unions and more!

Important information for parents:
